1973 OUTLOOK

"Capable of winning the NCAA championship" is how Coach Bud Beardmore describes his 1973 University of Maryland lacrosse team. Beardmore, in his fourth year as Maryland's head coach, opens the season with four returning All-Americans, 18 returning lettermen, and several promising newcomers.

Gone from last year's 9-2 ACC champions and NCAA semifinalists are first-team All-American John Kaestner on attack and second-team All-American goalie Bill Reilly. However, Coach Beardmore feels that junior Pat O'Meally and sophomore Bill O'Donnell will be more than adequate replacements.

Maryland's schedule features five of the other seven teams from last year's NCAA tournament, including champion Virginia. The Terps will also participate in the Hero's Tournament on March 22-25. All of the teams in the Hero's field of eight won championships last year, including Virginia, national club champion Carling, and NCAA College Division titlist Hobart, Maryland's first round opponent.

Here is the prospectus by position:

Attack—O'Meally moves up from the midfield to join two returning starters on attack, honorable mention All-American Dave Dempsey and Ed Mullen. Dempsey, with 75 goals, needs only 29 goals this season to set the all-time career goal record currently held by Bill Pettit. Mullen started as a freshman last year and finished as the team's third leading scorer. Backing up this trio will be sophomores Bob Mitchell, Richard Knapp, and two freshmen, Harmon Levine and Pete Fiordelisi.

Midfield—Maryland has plenty of depth at midfield and Coach Beardmore feels he will be able to run three midfield units without any drop-off in performance. The top two returnees are first-team All-American Doug Schreiber and third-team All-American Gary Besosa. Schreiber was the top midfielder in scoring last year. In Besosa and sophomore Doug Radebaugh, Maryland has two of the top faceoff men in the nation. Other lettermen at midfield are senior Larry Hubbard, juniors Dino Mattessich and Dave Hallock, and sophomore Brooks Sleeper. The Terps have three talented freshmen with high school All-Americans Roger Tuck, Frank Urso, and Kevin Boland, and this trio may form one of the midfield units.

Defense—Five lettermen, including second-team All-American Mike Thearle, and two promising newcomers give the Terps depth and talent on defense. Experience is provided by seniors Rick Avena, Ed Glatzel, Tom Goucher, Thearle, and junior Steve Adamo. They will be joined by freshman Mike Farrell, a high school All-American, and transfer Art Seekamp, an all-tournament and all-region player from national JUCO champions Nassau Community College.

Goal—Sophomore Bill O'Donnell is the leading candidate to replace Reilly in the goal. Beardmore feels that O'Donnell is as talented as Reilly, and only lacks the leadership that comes from experience. His backup will be one of three people, Washington & Lee transfer Chuck St. Clair, senior Fred Kramer, Maryland's goalie two years ago, or sophomore Gary Niels.

Beardmore is a member of Phi Delta Theta fraternity, Omicron Delta Kappa and Kalegothos honoraries, and was named to Who's Who in American Colleges in his senior year.

MARYLAND LACROSSE HISTORY

The University of Maryland played it's first Lacrosse game as a major varsity sport in 1924. The sport was actually initiated at College Park in 1910 but only on an informal level, and later as a minor sport. E. E. Powell of Baltimore, Maryland, introduced the sport to the College Park campus in 1910. In 1914 R. V. Truitt took over and was instrumental in having the sport elevated to a Major Varsity level.

In 1924 both the University and the United States Intercollegiate Lacrosse Association recognized the sport. Under Coach Truitt the Terps made their debut with a 4-3 win over the University of Pennsylvania and followed with a 5-3 win over Navy and an 11-3 victory over Stevens before suffering the only two shutouts in Terp History by Army and Lehigh. Both games were by 3-0 scores. Johns Hopkins 4-2 and Penn State 8-1 completed the winning season for Maryland. In his four years at the helm of the Terps Coach Truitt had a 22-8-1 collegiate record.

In 1928 Jack Faber took over as the Terrapin mentor and compiled one of the greatest coaching records in history. Coach Faber produced 36 teams for Maryland and never had a losing season. He was actually the Maryland coach for 36 years, but in 1944 and 1945, the Terps did not field a team although they did hold practice sessions. In addition, under the accelerated program in 1942, the Terps fielded two teams playing the usual spring schedule and also a summer schedule which they won.

In all, Coach Faber won 276 games against 75 losses and 2 ties. Al Heagy joined Coach Faber in 1932 and the two produced SEVEN National Championship Squads. In addition, the Terps were the runner-up team for National honors seven times in the same period. The Terps shared National honors with Hopkins and Rutgers in 1928, Faber's first year, and in 1931 were again rated the best team in the nation although this was prior to the Lacrosse Association award, the W. Wilson Wingate Memorial Trophy, which was initiated in 1936.

The Terps have met 40 different colleges on the Lacrosse field and only one, Army, has an edge on the Terps. The Cadets have won 18 to the Terps 15. Navy with a series of 24-21-1 with Maryland ahead and Johns Hopkins with a series of 28-23-1 with Maryland ahead, are the only two teams close to the Terps in series play.

While the Terps have not been blanked since their opening season, their opponents have suffered 34 shutouts at the hands of the Terps. The most one-sided game in Terrapin history was a 26-2 win over Duke in 1960, while Hopkins 20-8 win over the Terps in 1959 is the largest total score margin by an opponent over the Terps. Navy's 22-12 win in 1962 is the highest score made against the Terps.

The Terps participated in the Olympic Playoff Series twice defeating Rutgers 7-2 and Navy 6-2 before losing the final game to Johns Hopkins in 1928 and in 1932 defeated Mt. Washington 9-0, Rutgers 5-4 before again losing to Hopkins 7-5 in the final game.

The overall Maryland Lacrosse record now stands at 362 wins against 95 defeats and 4 ties for the 47 years.

The longest game in Maryland History was a 5-5 tie with Stevens Institute in 1925 which concluded three 10 minute overtime periods. Coach Faber played in that game for Maryland.

The Terps have had 6 undefeated seasons: 1936 (6-0), 1937 (7-0), 1940 (10-0), 1942 (4-0, summer league), 1955 (11-0), 1956 (10-0).
